LOCAL MATTERS.

WAKE COUNTY CONVENTION.—The Conservative-Democratic party of Wake county will hold a Convention at the Court House in Raleigh, on Thursday, July 11th, to nominate candidates for the Legislature and for the county offices.

Townships are requested to hold meetings and send Delegates.

LOCAL BRIEFS.

The "Young Men's Greeley Club"
Friday night.

The Stockholders of the N. C. R. R.
meet in this city to-day.

The "Greeley Band" will meet promptly at 8 o'clock this evening.

Young men, don't fail to attend the organization of your Club Friday night.

The pressure on our columns rules out our report of the Keith speaking at the Court House Tuesday night.

Furman, of the Franklin Courier,
having reached the apex of his hopes,
returned to Louisville, yesterday.

The Wake County Democratic Conservative Convention meets this morning at 12 o'clock at the Court House.

Jane Bostick, an unfortunate lunatic
from Rushford county, was on yesterday admitted to the Lunatic Asylum.

Hox, Stos H. Rogers will address the citizens of Raleigh at the Court House this evening. Overwhelm him.

Maj. W. A. Blount and family departed for the sea side yesterday, and will take rooms at the popular Atlantic Hotel, at Beaufort.

Ye focal is necessarily compelled under the pressure to yield his space again to-day. Baltimore Conventions comes only once in four years.

An Irish potato measuring sixteen inches in circumference and weighing 4½ pounds, has been sent us by Maj.
Blacknall, of Kittrell's.

News from this District is more cheering every day, and it is now confidently believed that Col. Rogers' majority will reach 1500.

We will publish to-morrow for the benefit of all concerned, the instructions recently issued from the Revenue Department in regard to the tobacco trade, licenses, &c.

The names of many prominent gentlemen are mentioned in connection with the nominations for county officers to-day. Give us a strong and straight ticket, and victory is ours.

Rumors are rife in several sections of the State that many diseases are prevailing in this city. Such is not the case. Raleigh is unusually healthy for the season, and there is not an epidemic
of any nature in the city.

SUPREME COURT.—This body met yesterday morning at the usual hour.
All the Justices present.

Appeals from the 6th District were taken up.

rad for plaintiff, and Edward Conigland and J. B. Batchelor for defendant.

J. M. S. Rogers vs. B. W. Goodwin
et al. from Northampton; dismissed.
Smith and Strong for plaintiff, and E.
Conigland, Judge Barnes and Peebles
& Peebles for defendants.

NOT IN THE FIELD.—The following
has been handed us by W. V. Clifton, Esq., which speaks for itself:

"In view of the fact that my name has been prominently mentioned in connection with the nomination of sheriff
for this county in the Democratic Conservative Convention which meets in this city to-day, I will say that in my humble opinion a good strong ticket,
the best men we have for the positions,
can be easily elected at the approaching election; and knowing that there are others in the county 'native and to the manor born,' that are fully qualified and more popular than myself, I respectfully withdraw my name in favor of such a candidate, promising not only to support, but use all the influence I have to secure the election of the ticket in August next.

Respectfully, &c.,
W. V. CLIFTON.

THE BINGHAM SCHOOL.—We have received from the faculty the Catalogue of the far famed Bingham School for the year ending June 26th, 1872. The total number of scholars present was 92, of which 73 were from North Carolina. Five other States were represented in the school.

The Catalogue, one of the neatest in typographical appearance that we have seen, was printed in this city.

YOUNG MEN.—You are called upon to meet at the Court House Friday night next, to form a young men's "Greeley or White Hat Club."

Let every young man in the city of Raleigh who has the interest of this great movement at heart come out and unite in the good work of restoring the government to the keeping of honest men.

THE YOUNG MEN'S GREELEY CLUB
OF RALEIGH.—The young men of the city of Raleigh, are called to meet at the Court House on Friday evening
next, to form a "Young Men's Greeley Club of the city of Raleigh."

Let there be a large and full turnout
of both old and young.

ATTENTION! "GREELEY BAND."—
You are hereby ordered to meet promptly at the Rendezvous this evening, at 8 o'clock. Every member of the "Band" is expected to be on hand, equipped for duty. By order of the PRESIDENT.

WESLEYAN ACADEMY.—Attention is called to the advertisement of Rev. S.
R. Traywick, principal of the Wesleyan Academy for Boys. Mr. Traywick has a reputation in this city as an instructor of youths second to none in this section, and has always rendered entire satisfaction to his numerous patrons.

DELEGATES.—At a meeting held in Auburn Township, Wake county, on Monday, the following persons were selected to represent that township in the Conservative Convention to be held here to-day: Messrs. B. Poole, Y. L.
Smith, W. R. Pool, Casewell Powell,
Haywood Griffin, W. A. Sturdivant.

PAID UP.—The following amounts were on yesterday paid to the county Treasurers under the school fund act of 1871.

C. C. McMickle, Treasurer of Surry county, $150; A. G. Walker, Treasurer
Tyrrel county, $129.66.

THE Journal says only about half a dozen vessels are now in port at Wilmington.

ROBT. MEARS, colored, had his hand badly shattered in Wilmington on Saturday night.

A LARGE number of Wilmingtonians have left to spend the Summer at the water places and various resorts.

A WHITE lad nine years old stabbed
a colored youth in the shoulder Tuesday. The mother of the offender gave him a good switching.

THE Wilmington Journal says the pench shipping business is now in full blast in that section.

Dr. Thomas D. Hogg, of this city, left here a few days since, to attend to shipping from his extensive orchard, near Wilmington.

NOON DISPATCHES.

The First Gun of the Enemy Silenced.

WASHINGTON, July 10.
In alluding to a caricature in Harper's Weekly, underlined, "When the rebellious traitors are overwhelmed in the field and scattered like leaves before an angry wind, it must not be to return to peaceful and contented homes;
they must find poverty at their firesides and see privation in the anxious eye of mothers and in the rags of children."

The Tribune says: "We deem it only necessary to say that not a word of this pretended extract is found in the Tribune of that date, and no such words were ever written by Mr. Greeley." We

THE BALTIMORE CONVEN-TION.

BALTIMORE, June 10.

The delegates generally were in their seats by 10 o'clock. The second brass band located in the upper gallery en-tained the audience with various airs of which dixie, my Maryland, and yankee doodle were equally applauded.

At a quarter after 10 o'clock, the Chairman Doollittle announced that the hour
to which the Convention adjourned,
had arrived and called the Convention to order. The Chairman called upon Rev. Dr. Leburn, of Baltimore, who addressed the throne of grace.

The Chair announced for the convenience of members of the Convention and press, that every person rising to make a motion or speak, shall announce his name and State.

Cabel, of Arkansas, asked seats, by courtesy, for five delegates from Arkansas, in excess of their regular number.
Agreed.

Burr, of Connecticut, announced the Committee on resolutions ready to report. They came to the platform, and at his request, the Reading Clerk, Mr.
Burr, read the report, recommending the adoption of the resolutions already adopted by the Liberal Republican Convention of Cincinnati. (Cheers.)

In order that there should be no misapprehension as to these resolutions, Burr called for their reading in full to the Convention, which was done, each plank in the platform being received with applause. The one term plank was especially well received. A call for three cheers, at the close, elicited partial response.

Burr explained that the resolutions
were the Cincinnati platform exactly,
nothing added or nothing excluded.
This platform was adopted in Committee by all the States except Delaware, Mississippi, Georgia and Oregon. He moved the adoption of the report, and moved the previous question.

Bayard, of Delaware, enquired whether the previous question, another name for gag law, had become the law of this Democratic Convention without notice
to the delegates.

The Chair said that the Convention had adopted the rules of the House of Representatives, so the motion of Burr was in order and not open to debate.

Various gentlemen appealed for a withdrawal of the motion in order to allow short debate.

Burr said he felt compelled to decline.
A scene of great confusion ensued.
Calls of question, debate, &c. On motion to sustain the previous question, a call of States was ordered, and being taken, resulted years 553, says 176.

Hoffman in casting the united vote
of New York in the affirmative said that some of the delegates, himself among the number, were opposed to the previous question.

Hancock, of Ohio, denied the right of his delegation to cast the vote as a unit, and asked to have his vote recorded.

The Chair announced that Burr, of Connecticut, now entitled to one hour to debate the resolution, also that the debate from Delaware, Mr. Bayard appeal for ten minutes. Burr conceded this request as Bayard is a member of the Committee on Resolutions.

Bayard took the platform and said that while there was no disposition to carp at and oppose men because of formed political opinion, yet he hoped that the great Democratic organization would be allowed to have an independent expression of its own honest sentiments. (Cheers.) Why take out and dried the resolutions of another organization?
(Applause.) Why have the opinion of other men not chosen by us forced down our throats as our expression?
It is proposed here that we shall go before the country for the first time without our own independent expression of principles. It is not just or wise to ask us to go into this campaign
under the clothing of a minority. (Calls of time, time.)

The Chair announced that Burr, out of respect for the minority, consented to give Bayard ten minutes more. Another Connecticut delegate objected to any man occupying the time of the Convention in this way. (Applause and hisses.) The Chair called to order and reminded the delegates that this was a deliberative assembly, and urged the respectful hearing of any one who occupied the floor, whether he approve his sentiments or not. Bayard finally restmed arguing the necessity for some expression of opinion upon the question of exercise of Federal military power under the color of legislation to enforce the Fourteenth and Fifteenth Constitutional Amendments. If the Convention failed in this, there would be serious disappointments. In conclusion he entered his protest against the pending motion to adopt the report

as a whole and asked a separate vote on the several distinct propositions pending.

O'Connor, of South Carolina, regretted there should have been any difference of opinion there, all other issues should be merged in the single one of declaring the election of the present National administration. He said the Reconstruction acts and the 13th, 14th and 15th Constitutional amendments had been accepted by public opinion, superior to any declarations, by the Convention. (Applause.) There was nothing left as yet as yet now but to save the nation from

SENATOR POOL.

Senator Pool is doing much service since his arrival among us. His great ability, energy, capacity for labor and his telling hits at the rotten democracy has awakened the venom of the Sentinel man, and the News in its endeavors to out Herod Herod, and gain the confidence of its party, joins in the vile attempt to prejudice the public mind against our Senator to counteract his great influence in North Carolina. They reproduce the vilest slanders against him. But he is too well fixed in the hearts of the loyal people of this State to be successfully maligned and traduced by corner grocery and barroom slander of either the Sentinel or the News.—Raleigh Era.

The News makes no charges against its opponents without foundation.

If we have done Mr. Pool any injustice, and the Era will convince us of our error, we will cheerfully correct it.

What we have said of Pool's conduct is based either upon his alleged statements or other Radical authority.

Maj. R. C. Badger, one of the most distinguished Radicals of the State, and at present the nominee of his party for the Legislature, stated on oath that Mr. Pool suggested to Gov. Holden, at a conference of Republicans in the city of Raleigh in 1870, the propriety of placing certain distinguished Democrats of the State under charge of one Mr. Lindsay, whom Pool recommended as a reckless man, and that Mr. Lindsay would lose the Democrats mentioned, in the swamps of Eastern North Carolina. Maj. Badger says that Pool made this proposition in earnest, and that he, Badger, and other Republicans indignantly denounced it.

The following is an extract from Maj. Badger's sworn testimony:

"John Pool proposed to put into the service a desperado named McLindsay, who would raise a company that would give Governor Holden no trouble, for that if any of the men arrested by him undertook any resistance he would kill them or they would be lost and never heard of again;" and suggested that the Governor (Holden) should follow the example of Governor Clayton, of Arkansas, "who had taken military possession of disaffected counties and tried and executed large numbers of men by military courts."

Does the Era believe the sworn testimony of Maj. R. C. Badger? If it does, then let it point to any denunciation in the News of Senator Pool, which is not justly merited.

Again, it has been frequently charged, and if we mistake not it was so stated in the speech of a Radical United States Senator, Mr. Pool's friend, that Mr. Pool said he became a member of the Legislature of North Carolina during the war, (a position which required him to take an oath to support the Constitution of the Confederate States) for the purpose of embarrassing the Confederate cause! This was stated on the floor of the United States Senate, we think. It has been frequently charged that Mr. Pool expressed a desire to obtain the position of Brigadier General in the Confederate army. We think this can be proved if it is denied. And yet Mr. Pool would claim a consistent Union record!

Now, if these things are true, John Pool does not require to be abused and denounced, in order to make him odious in North Carolina. His acts alone will render his name sufficiently detestable. It is not the purpose of the News to slander even its bitterest political opponents. But the publication of charges frequently made and not denied, and which rest on good testimony, does not constitute slander nor even misrepresentation.

To state facts founded upon evidence is not an abuse of the freedom of the press, and so long as we have a voice through the public press, we shall denounce such conduct as that alleged against Mr. Pool by his own political friends, in the strongest language at our command.

We are not disposed to follow the Era when it descends into the cess-pool of low abuse and unfounded calumnies, which it repeats from day to day against some of the best and purest men in North Carolina.

Even John Pool, if he can convince us that we have wronged him in aught we have said, shall be set right before the public. But until then, we shall continue to use the severest language we can employ to condemn the treacherous and atrocious conduct with which he is charged.

GREAT MASS MEETING IN RALEIGH.

We are requested to state that there will be a grand mass meeting in Raleigh, on Tuesday, July 16th, of Conservatives, Democrats and Liberal Republicans, which will be addressed by distinguished speakers from all parts of the country.

Hon. Can Schurz, Senator Trumbull, Gen. Francis P. Blair, Gov. Walker, of Virginia, and other eminent orators have been invited, and are expected to be present.

It is desired to make this affair one of the most imposing demonstrations that has ever been held in North Carolina.

MEETING OF LIBERAL REPUBLICANS.

It will be seen from the notice of W. S. Mason, Chairman of the Liberal Republican Executive Committee, published in our advertising columns, that a meeting of Liberal Republicans will be held in this city on the 16th inst., to organize for the Presidential campaign.

SPIRIT OF 1872.

We copy the following beautiful extract from the able Literary Address delivered by Col. Walter Clarke, at the Commencement at Rocky Mount College, on June 27th, 1872, which we find reported in the Ranoke News.

It contains an apt expression of the yearning of the people North and South to forget the bitterness of the past, and for a return to fraternity and peace. It is the feeling of the masses—the feeling whose spontaneous utterance nominated Greeley at Cincinnati, which will confirm that nomination at Baltimore to-day, and will infallibly elevate him to the White-House in November next. Col. Clarke has read the great popular heart aright, and has spoken its sentiment boldly and gracefully:

"And here I might pause, did not a deep sense of duty compel me to say a few words at parting to the young gentlemen before me. In you, my young friends, I see the rising generation, who in time, will come upon the stage and control the destinies of a great people. We have recently emerged from a great civil war—a war that filled the land with mourning, and has billeted our Southern soil with the graves of our best and bravest. The glorious banner of our hope, our faith, and our prayers, was furled amid a blaze of glory. We loved the hands now dead and cold, that bore it, and we remember with pride those four memorable years, when the bayonets of a soldierly half fed, half clothed and unpaid, swept in crested billows incarnadine over many a well fought field, and reflected the light of victory from even the last gleams of its sun. Were the glories of the past all that was left to us amid the wreck of our hopes, we might almost be tempted not to regret the struggle, which even though unavailing, has left to us such illustrations of the heroism of our race. But the War has left behind it, too, its animosities. It is hard indeed for the men who participated in that fierce struggle, who watched the varying fortunes of the strife, felt the elevation of victory, and the bitter humiliation of defeat, who buried their friends, their comrades, their brothers, and then realized that the struggle and sacrifice had been in vain—all in vain—it is hard indeed for these men to forget the passions and the prejudices of the past, and to again love the Union as we once loved it, and as our fathers loved it. But you, young men, will come upon the stage with no such disadvantages upon you. You can dwell upon the splendid story of Southern valor and honor the men who—"

"Only brave, died for a cause they could not save!" and feel no bitterness in your hearts against the courage and heroism displayed by men who equally sincere in their cause, and aided by superior numbers, made that valor unavailing. Death is common to the same and the same alike the gray and the blue, the same dew falls upon their united graves, and the green corn springs from the soil watered and fertilized by the common blood of the gallant men who fell on either side. The war is over. It should be a part of your education to forget its pains, its humiliations, its bitterness, and remember only its unending glories. You should be educated to realize that this great country is all our country, from Virginia to California, from Maine's white coast to where "St. Mary's waves weep." You can recall to mind, that the flag which now floats over us, is the same that our fathers loved and followed. You can learn to again realize that we have an inheritance in Bunker Hill, in Saratoga, and in the undying glories of Yorktown. You can be taught that side by side, men from the North and men from the South swept up the heights of Chippewa, Chapultepec, Cerro Gorda and Churubusco. And true men at the North will teach their children that they too have an inheritance in the prodigies of Southern valor, at Fredericksburg, at Chancellorsville, at Spotsylvania and in the Wilderness. It is no small or unimportant part of your education to eradicate sectional animosities. The question for the rising generation is whether they will bind themselves to the past, and on old lands erect old altars, or on old altars erect old idols, or whether they will ally themselves with Future, with Progress and the Republic. As the brave men who are dead, endured every hardship and sacrificed even life itself for what they deemed the good of our native South; so young gentlemen, you must conquer your prejudices, and sacrifice your passions, to promote now her interests, to place our young South again on the high road of prosperity, and make her in spirit, as in fact, an integral part of our common country. See to it, that you grow up with no sectional animosities in your bosoms, but with feelings of patriotism as broad as our whole country, as magnanimous as its destinies, and limited only by the slight oceans which give bounds to the Great Republic."

GREAT MASS MEETING AND BARBECUE AT WELDON.
The Great Mass Meeting will take place at Weldon, N. C., on Friday, July 12th, instead of Saturday the 13th, as heretofore announced.

A grand time is anticipated. Senators Schurz, Trumbull, and Blair, Messrs. Doolittle, and Thurman, Governor Walker and Col. J. W. Hinton, of Virginia, General J. B. Gordon, of Georgia, and Gov. Vance and Senator Ransom and other distinguished speakers are expected to address the people.

Preparations have been made for a large crowd, and there will also be music to enliven the occasion. Arrangements will be made for special trains from Raleigh, Wilmington, Petersburg and Portsmouth at reduced fare, and the fire companies of these cities will be invited to attend.

THE NORTH CAROLINA DELEGATION AT BALTIMORE.

Hon. D. M. Barringer is Chairman of our delegation; R. F. Armfield is the Vice-President from North Carolina.

Hon. T. L. Clingman is the member of the Committee on Resolutions; H. G. Williams, on Credentials; John Manning, on Organization.

Maj. J. A. Engelhard, of the Wilmington Journal, is one of the Secretaries.

DELAY AND DENIAL OF JUSTICE BY THE SUPREME COURT.

Our Supreme Court is no ordinary body. Errors of judgment which will sometimes occur to even the best constituted Courts do not satisfy this Court. With too much ability to err by mistake, respect for their oaths of office and a decent regard to the high opinion with which in the past the people of North Carolina have ever regarded their highest Judiciary should prevent their erring by design. The carelessness with which their judgments have been rendered for the last two or three years, and the numerous errors which will alone cause their decisions to be remembered hereafter, have already fastened popular indignation. The Supreme Court, however, is inventive. When public detestation flags they contrive to provoke it. Even an erroneous decision bad as it is, is sometimes better than "the law's delay." The Supreme Court which is constituted for the trial of causes and under a Constitution which guarantees a speedy trial to every one, now assumes authority to refuse to hear causes unless it suits their convenience. If a cause comes up whose direct decision may affect the result of any impending political election, this political Court will assume at once its now declared practice, and postpone the cause till "a more convenient season."

We were particularly struck with the boldness and shamelessness of the Court in this respect, in a case which came before them this week. The Raleigh and Augusta Air Line R. R. petitioned for a mandamus against D. A. Jenkins, the Public Treasurer, to compel him to accept $1,300,000 State Bonds, in exchange for like amount of the Bonds of that Company, which had been heretofore deposited with the State Treasurer. The exchange was authorized by the very act of Legislature under which the Rail Road bonds were placed in the hands of the Treasurer. The case presented no difficulty, but Jenkins, to keep up his reputation, declined to effect the exchange. A Mandamus was sued out to compel him to perform his plain and simple duty. The right of the company to exchange the Bonds was too plain, almost to admit of argument. The Company appeared by its Counsel, W. N. H. Smith, Batchelor and Walter Clark, and the State was represented by Judge Shipp the Attorney General.

The Court immediately declined to hear argument, because it involved a constitutional question. They boldly stated that they should hear no cause that involved a constitutional question this Term, because there was a vacancy on the bench.

Let us see about this. If the Court can declare that they will hear no causes of a constitutional character this Term, can they not say so next Term, and the next Term and so on forever. On what can have these Cæsars fed? If they can declare they will hear no constitutional questions, they can say they will hear no criminal cases, no habeas Corpus cases, or any other class of cases it may suit the conveniences of their High Mightinesses to point out. See, too, the hypocrisy of this Court. It is well known that this very Court has recommended the Governor not to fill the vacancy on the bench until the August election—to keep a seat warm, we suppose, for some decapitated favorite. Now they take advantage of their own recommendation to say that they will hear no cause involving constitutional questions—a most important class of cases—pending the vacancy on the bench. We know not what the injury may be to the petitioner and plaintiff in this cause by this delay and substantial denial of Justice. We presume it must necessarily be great but with that we have nothing to do. There are we learn other cases, before the Court involving constitutional questions which of course can not now be heard for want of a Tribunal. It is with the principle of the thing, that we have to deal—this despotic tendency in Supreme Court to consult political convenience rather than the rights of parties. It was this very abuse of justice, its denial and delay, which roused the Barons to wrest Magna Charta from King John at Runnymede. This same delay of justice formed an important charge against George the Third in the Declaration of Independence. Every Constitution of this State has contained in its Bill of Rights a provision against the delay or denial of Justice. Yet our Supreme Court delays a most important class of causes because a vacancy exists on the bench which they have recommended should not be filled, and Gov. Caldwell becomes accessory. We call upon Gov. Caldwell distinctly now to show whether he is free from this collusion to deprive citizens of the right to have Constitutional questions involving his life or property passed upon by the Courts. If the vacancy on the bench causes that delay of Justice which the Constitution of the State forbids, Gov. Caldwell will fill the vacancy at once. We will see now how much he is interested in this denial of Justice. We hope the Executive is not "exhausted" by the appointment of Boyden.

Let the people of North Carolina remember the first of August next that there is now no Tribunal in the borders of the State to decide questions of a constitutional character involving their lives or property and that Gov. Caldwell and a Radical Supreme Court have so ordered it.

OUR CANDIDATES.

We to day place at our mast head the names of Greeley and Brown, the candidates selected by the National Democratic Convention for the offices of President and Vice President of the United States.

The platform adopted was exactly the same as that put forth by the Liberal Republicans at Cincinnati, on the 1st of May.

It will be seen from our dispatches that Mr. Greeley received six hundred and eighty-six votes out of seven hundred and twenty-four votes, and on the second ballot his nomination was made unanimous.

There was no bolting—no division, no split—but everything went off harmoniously and gloriously. Our Convention was a grand success every way. We anticipate the most auspicious results from its action.

In view of the momentous issues at stake in our State election, it cannot be expected that we will devote a large portion of our space to National affairs until after the 1st of August. We will then bend our energies to the task of placing North Carolina along side of the other States that will wheel into line under the Greeley and Brown standard.

Three cheers for Greeley and Brown!

WE CALL THE ATTENTION OF THE DEMOCRATIC PRESS OF THE STATE TO THE NOTICE IN OUR PAPER OVER THE STATE TICKET, AT THE HEAD OF OUR EDITORIAL COLUMNS.

TO THE LIBERAL REPUBLICANS OF NORTH CAROLINA.

A Convention of Liberal Republicans of this State will be held in this city on 10th inst., to consider and adopt such measures as will best conduce to the maintenance of the Union, of principles, and to the election of its nominees, Horace Greeley for President and B. Gratz Brown for Vice-President.

Not yet fully organized, it is believed we are numerous enough to give victory to the approaching contest, if we are true to the issues we have raised—the issues of Peace, Honesty and a high political aim.

The signs of a powerful corporation are of sufficient magnitude to justify the expectation that an unprecedented triumph will be achieved.

Though this notice has been unavoidably postponed it is hereby given with as full attendance as possible may be had.

STOCKHOLDERS' MEETING--
NORTH CAROLINA R. R.

The annual meeting of the Stockholders of the North Carolina Railroad Company occurs in this city to day. The train yesterday brought down quite a number of the prominent stockholders from the West, and this morning there is in the city a large attendance of the private stockholders in the Road.

We have read the advanced sheets of the President's forthcoming report.

The report states that the debt of the Road has been reduced to $366,972.63, and that the annual net income of the Road from the Lease is $200,000. For the past four years the Road has been paying a semi-annual dividend of 3 per cent, or 6 per cent, annual. President Smith says in this report "I think the true policy of the Company is to pay off the debt before declaring another dividend. The amount to be received from the Lease for the coming two years will be $520,000, and the present debt of the Company being $366,972.63, we have a balance of $153,027.37 more than the debt, which will be amply sufficient to pay the interest and expenses of the Company at the end of two years, when the company will be clear of debt and annually thereafter pay to the stockholders at least six per cent, clear dividend, even after making the proper deduction for possible loss of assets."

In regard to the lease of the Road, we give below Maj. Smith's statement for what it is worth, without in the slightest degree intending to endorse his position, course of reasoning, or conclusions of fact. The public is entitled to know what reasons existed for the contract and the motives moving Maj. S. in his advocacy of the lease:

"THE LEASE OF YOUR ROAD.—On the 24th of September last, the Board, in pursuance of what they deemed best for the interests of the Stockholders, in continuing the present and securing the future income of the Company at a dividend payable in cash, concluded and caused to be executed a lease of the Company's entire property to the Richmond and Danville Railroad Company, for a term of thirty years, as the best and only certain method of effecting the most important result. A copy of the said contract of lease is herewith submitted for the full information of the Stockholders. At the time of its execution, the President made public announcement of the fact by a published circular to the stockholders, stating briefly some of the reasons which, in the judgment of the Board, made it their duty to enter into this important engagement.

A somewhat fuller statement is here proper: "Until the completion, in 1841, of the Piedmont Railroad, from Danville to Greensboro, the North Carolina Railroad had a monopoly on its own terms, of the transportation through Middle and Western, and southwestern North Carolina—constituting the principal line of communication between the Eastern Markets and the States South of it. But upon the resumption of business at Greensboro, which soon became apparent that the monopoly could not be maintained against the influences of this new competitor, and that it was important and useful as it was as affording a direct and shorter route to large communities in this State, and as it would out some important changes in our property interests. How much change should be made, has been much agitated and discussed for three or four years past, by the stockholders and others interested in the Road, whether we should continue to operate the Road as it is, or whether we should acquire, by lease or purchase, the connecting line of the Charlotte, Columbia and Augusta Road, and thus bring ourselves against the inevitable coming competition of the line via Danville.

In the Autumn of the year 1870, the President recommended to the Stockholders what then seemed to him the only mode for maintaining the Road, and of time, our independent and safe position, by the acquisition of the Charlotte, Columbia and Augusta Road, and thus bring ourselves against the inevitable coming competition of the line via Danville. This suggestion, however, was not acted on, and during the past year, the Charlotte, Columbia and Augusta Line, constituting our only communication, South, passed into the control of parties not interested in the Danville Line. In the meantime the rapid progress of the Air Line from Charlotte to Atlanta, and the fact that the Danville Line, if not controlled by the Danville Line, promised within a period of twelve months, to give another powerful reinforcement and aid to the Danville interests, to have their independent communication between Greensboro and Charlotte, or if the use of the Road could not be had.

With two or three charters at their command to work under, and a large part of the people of middle and Western North Carolina ready to co-operate with them, and all the connections of the North and South in their interest, we would have been faithless to our duty and our interests, if we had not immediately resorted to some action, when they said to us, we prefer to contract with the North Carolina Company on the terms which are useful to us and to many of our own people in this connection, but if all negotiation is rejected, we are compelled to build the connection.

Suppose the negotiation had been rejected, and the competing capital set to work, and the rival line completed, what then would be the condition of this Company or its future prospects? Such, indeed, as is well known, were the facts that existed, and the watchful and faithful guardians and administrators of the interests and property of the Company, were obliged to take notice of the fact, and act for the protection of the stockholders as their judgment and duty required. Some action being thus obviously necessary, the question was, what was best, the construction of a second track between the Greensboro and Charlotte, or the lease of the whole line? One of the other alternatives, or take the chances for the ruin of the stockholders' interest in the Road by the establishment of a competing Road in a year or two, once commenced, it was not likely to stop. The connections were all our control and we were limited to the choice indicated.

Upon reflection it was clear, as it will be to any one on examination, that the additional capital requisite for a second track would have been only an additional burden without a corresponding return to the Company. To have leased the Road from Greensboro to Charlotte would have risked all future profit from the Eastern section of the Road, the very maintenance of that part of the line itself. The lease of the whole line, therefore, on the best terms to be had, was determined on as the best and probably the only mode practicable to save the stockholders from great injury, and at the same time secure the future of the people of the State the efficient maintenance of a great thoroughfare through its entire limits. The lease of the whole was, therefore, made, and on the best terms to be had. Desirous and interested to obtain the most money possible for the Company, a higher rent was sought to be obtained, but was declined in such manner as left the Board no reason to believe that more would be given by any party, unless for a very short term of years.

To have leased for a few years only to any other party, even at a greater rent, would have resulted in ruin to the Stockholders by leaving and necessitating the Company to be built; and after the lapse of four or five years the return of the Road to the Company, with its business cut off and your income gone forever. The most rent, therefore, was obtained that was practicable—as much, and possibly more, than the Road will earn net for several years, at the rates and tolls now in force. The terms and security provided for the efficient maintenance and operation of the Road, and the prompt payment of the rent, are thoroughly and carefully made, and challenge the confidence of every fair-minded member of the Company.

The lease was made with the knowledge and approval of the largest stockholders of the Company, and under the advice and protection of several of the ablest lawyers and prudent men of the State, who were also deeply interested, as stockholders and citizens, in the integrity and propriety of the transaction.

Very respectfully,
Your humble servant,
W. A. SMITH,
President.

THE GUBERNATORIAL CAMPAIGN.

JUDGE MERRIMON'S VISIT TO THE GREENSBORO CONSERVATIVE CLUB ROOMS—SPEECHES—SERENADES—KIND HOSPITALITY AND CORTESIES.

GREENSBORO, N. C., July 9th, 1872.

After closing my letter last night we paid a visit to the Conservative Club rooms, where members to the number of over a hundred had congregated to meet our distinguished candidate for Governor. Arriving there, nothing short of a speech would do from Judge Merrimon, in which he gave them an account of his reception in the East, spoke of the prospect for the election of our ticket and told them of the effort which he would make, in case of his election, in the interests of the whole people of North Carolina. The speaker was greeted with frequent applause.

Speeches were made by several other gentlemen, and the Club adjourned about half past ten o'clock, every one more than ever pleased with their candidate for Governor. To-night about two hundred ladies and gentlemen serenaded Judge Merrimon at the residence of Mr. Yates. The grounds in front of the house were lit up for the occasion, and after two tunes had been played, loud calls were made for Judge Merrimon, who appeared on the porch and was introduced in a very handsome manner by John A. Gilmer. The Judge entertained his audience for some time in an able speech, with which his audience were highly delighted, as was evidenced by their loud and frequent applause.

Who can despair when we see the ladies of our noble and bleeding Old State manifesting such interest in our cause. It is a sign of the times from which we can take courage and should stimulate us to work with renewed energy.

After Judge Merrimon's remarks Mr. Yates was called and briefly addressed the assemblage. During Judge Merrimon's stay here, he has been received with open arms, if I may be allowed the expression; after his speech on Monday, a number of sterling farmers and others, walked up and availed themselves of the opportunity of shaking hands with their candidate for Governor. Democrats certainly have reason to be satisfied with the reception with which their nominee is meeting.

The impression created by Judge Merrimon's speech yesterday was very fine. There is but one opinion in regard to it: that it was able, statesmanlike, and convincing. We leave here to-night for Winston, Forsyth county, and from there will go to Yadkin. I will endeavor to inform your readers to the prospect in the different counties and in regard to all matters of interest.

We carry with us many pleasant recollections of the hospitable people of this beautiful village, and to all we return thanks for the many courtesies extended to us, and more especially we under obligations to Mr. C. G. Yates and family for their many acts of kindness.

Book Notice.

"Lord Kilgobbin." By Charles Lever, New York. Harper and Brothers. Twenty five years ago, it may be, the reading world almost went mad over Charles O'Malley, one of the raciest, most amusing books that had ever been written. With the exception of Pickwick, there was probably no book in our language that was so overrunning with fun and frolic. In it the hilarious eccentricities of Irish character were strikingly described, and a comparatively new world of fun and humor was opened up. No one who has ever read it will forget Mickey Free, a character in many respects as laugh-provoking as Sam Wells, so inimitable and amusing. Charles Lever achieved his highest excellence in this novel, but he has written several other novels of great cleverness and spirit, that will attract thousands of readers for many decades to come. Lord Kilgobbin is the last production of Lever's fertile and gifted pen, and it will be read with singular interest by every admirer of his previous contributions to English light literature. It has merit of its own that will attract attention aside from the melancholy interest that attaches to it as the last effort of his feeble brain. The dedication of the volume is full of sorrow and tenderness. Who can read this without emotion? "To the memory of one whose companionship made the happiness of a long life, and whose loss has left me helpless, I dedicate this book, written in breaking health and broken spirits. The task, that once was my joy and my pride, I have lived to find associated with my sorrow; it is not, then, without a cause I hope this effort may be my last."

And so it was. In a few months the hand that traced those words was powerless—the spirit of Charles Lever had left its earthly home to enter upon the life beyond. Requiescat in pace. The edition published by the Messrs. Harper is richly illustrated. Lord Kilgobbin is thought by some critics to be Lever's best work—as full of fun as his earliest efforts, but with higher ends in view than mere amusement and past time. Lever was certainly a born storyteller.

VALUABLE LAND FOR SALE

COUNTY OF WARREN.

I offer for sale, five hundred and two (502) acres of land, situated in the County of Warren, on Shocco Creek, adjoining the Sulphur Springs. Tract of Col. J. M. Heck, on both sides of the Turnpike Road, leading from the Sulphur Springs to the flourishing Town of Ridgebury, on the Raleigh and Gaston Railroad, and nine miles from the latter place. There is an Over-seer's house, three cabins, corn-crib and stables on the premises. About one-fourth (1/4) of the tract is in original growth of oak, hickory, etc., one-fifth in second growth of pines. The soil is sandy, lean and choicely adapted to growing wheat, corn, tobacco, and about 80 acres of rich bottom land. It yields excellent crops of corn, tobacco, wheat, oats, clover, &c. This is one of the best tracts of land in this section, and will be sold on reasonable terms.

Dr. George Fields, who resides near the land, will take pleasure in showing it to persons wishing to examine it, and is authorized to negotiate for its sale.

LOUISBURG, June 12th, 1872.

To The People of North Carolina:

In view of the approaching election, and my present relation to them, I deem it worth while to inform the people that my attention has been called to a scurrilous and libelous paper, extensively circulated in this State, entitled "Read And Circulate."

This paper is anonymous, and does not purport to have the sanction of any Editor, Publisher, political Committee or any body, but it is sent to the people under the Congressional frank of Hon. John Pool United States Senator.

It appropriately makes its first appearance in an obscure weekly paper, published in Washington City, called the "National New Era," edited by a negro named Fred Douglass.

The circular is infamously false, scandalous, and criminal. It imputes to me and other gentlemen, some on and others off the Democratic Conservative ticket for this State, the most infamous crimes against society and individuals, and it is so false, wanton and criminal, that it is not surprising that it is sent out to accomplish what evil it may without apparent sanction of, or attaching amenability to, any one.

It is so monstrously false and scandalous that I was amazed to learn that it was sent out to the people under the frank of Mr. Pool, and I therefore enquired of him, by letter, if it was so sent with his knowledge and consent.

He informed me it was, but says it was a "rehash of newspaper articles." It is indeed a "rehash" made up in such an artful way as to charge in terms, by suggestion, artful argumentation, and innuendo against me and others, the most disreputable crimes and conduct against the people and State; and it illustrates a species of desperate and disreputable partisan warfare that can not be tolerated, much less justified, among a civilized people; nor do I believe the people of this State of any political party should do so.

So far as I am informed the Radical papers of the State, fruitless as they have been of misrepresentation and falsehood have not republished it.

I deem it due to the people and myself to say for the benefit of any such might be misled by it, that in so far as it refers to myself the paper is in every material respect absolutely FALSE, SCANDALOUS, AND LIBELOUS, and I believe it is so in reference to the other gentlemen assailed.

In vindication of myself against this wanton attack, it is my purpose to bring suit against Pool, in the Superior Court of Wake, reserving to myself to take such other steps in the future as may be deemed proper.

I am more than willing that the truth shall be ascertained by a judicial tribunal for the better satisfaction of the public, and to the end, that professional politicians may learn that they cannot assual innocent men in such a savage way with impunity, I will give Mr. Pool the opportunity to make good the charges in the anonymous paper, if he can do so.

It has been suggested that such publications are legitimate in political contests like the present. This may be so according to the code of morals of a class of desperate political adventurers, but it is not so, in my judgment, among gentlemen, or a civilized and virtuous community. Nor do I believe the people of North Carolina of any party will enforce such shameless and groundless assaults upon innocent men, because they happen to be put forward by hundreds of their fellow men for high responsible and honorable offices.

The paper referred to is a base and criminal prostitution of the freedom of the press to accomplish the basest purposes of deceiving and misleading the popular mind. This good and patriotic men will not do, and the people of all classes may well distrust those who attempt it.

A BRIGHTER DAY TO-MORROW.

Dark clouds hang above us,
And with the cheerless rain,
Comes down upon the forest,
And hill, and vale and plain;
It whirls in furious surges
Against our loved retreat,
And tramples our sweet blossoms
With rude, swift-flying feet;
Yet still we will be joyful
Nor care nor trouble borrow,
But hope and trust there'll be
A brighter day to-morrow.

So, when our lives are darkened,
And clouds of ill hang o'er,
We'll never fear God's sunlight
Will fall on us no more;
We'll never think that Pleasure,
And Love, and Joy are dead,
And Peace, and sweet Contentment
Forevermore have fled;
We'll put our trust in heaven,
And in our fearful sorrow,
Still hope and pray our eyes may see
A brighter day to-morrow.

Brave brother, art thou weary?
Sweet sister, art thou faint?
And is thy life path dreary?
I've heard thy spirit's plaint,
And bid thee now be hopeful
And joyous once again;
Oh never, never murmur,
Replacings all are vain;
Let nothing daunt thy spirit,
Nor give thee lasting sorrow;
But hope and trust there'll be
A brighter day to-morrow.
